PORT OF SOUTH LOUISIANA LAUNCHES REDESIGNED WEBSITE

LaPlace, LA

The Port of South Louisiana is pleased to announce the redesign of the website www.portsl.com. With updated features and enhanced navigability, it is set to provide its audience more relevant and accessible information on the activity within the Port of South Louisiana and the River Region.

“Our website has always been an important way for us to share information about the Port of South Louisiana and the resources of the River Region,” said Paul Aucoin, Executive Director of the Port of South Louisiana. “With its new look and improved navigability, it makes it even easier to find everything anyone wants to know about the largest tonnage port in the Western Hemisphere.”

Thanks to Curran & Connors, the revamped site features a modern look with enhanced features, including easier navigation. The new website includes enhanced search capabilities, highlights from the Port and the region, economic development information for potential investors, and numerous resources for site selectors, industry, companies, government officials, and the community.

About the Port of South Louisiana

The Port of South Louisiana is a 54-mile port district on the Mississippi River between New Orleans and Baton Rouge, encompassing the parishes of St. Charles, St. John and St. James. The facilities located within the port’s district consistently handle over a quarter billion short tons of cargo annually, ranking it the largest tonnage port district in the Western Hemisphere, the nation’s greatest grain exporter, and the number one energy transfer port in the United States. Along the 108 miles of deep-water frontage on both banks of the river there are seven grain transfer facilities, four major oil refineries, 11 petrochemical manufacturing facilities and several other facilities for a total of more than 50 docks owned and operated by an impressive group of resident tenants such as ADM, ArcelorMittal, Dow, Cargill, DuPont, Motiva Enterprises, Marathon, Shell, Nucor Steel., Occidental, Valero, and Occidental Chemical.
